2001	61%				61%

With the non-sentenced ADP rising and the sentenced ADP declining, the obvious result is that the percentage of non-sentenced inmates is growing. The percentage of non-sentenced inmates has increased slightly in each of the last three quarters, with the biggest increase of over a percentage point between the last quarter of 2000 and the first quarter of 2001. Consistent with this finding is that fact that pretrial releases are down slightly from last year.
